if the divine liturgy really is as beautiful as we claim wouldn't more people attend wouldn't the church grow driven by our desire for growth we count we analyze we make charts and we strategize but often with few discernible results that is probably the result of focusing on secondary aspects of church life as we know the very existence of a church is a gift of god's presence and not the result of any particular actions taken by human beings for that reason church is primarily about being something rather than doing or achieving something so the growth of the church is not reflected in ever increasing numbers dollars and activities but rather in steadily growing conformity to the divine ideal so in order to evaluate ecclesial growth we will first have to ask what the church is supposed to be one answer to that question is captured in the four marks of the church given in the creed oneness holiness catholicity and apostolicity these four characteristics serve as a matrix or framework within which we can focus on the primary aspects of ecclesial being and help it grow and become what it was intended to be according to alan fine every one of us has the capacity for greatness so what is it that is stopping us from reaching our true potential the answer too much information most people who want to get better at hitting golf shots negotiating with clients delivering presentations or any field of endeavour seek out new information they read a book take a class employ an expert tutor but as alan fine has learned from many years of coaching athletes and businesspeople this outside in approach often doesn't produce the results people want more information becomes a distraction rather than a solution and high performance remains elusive fortunately there is a better way fine has developed and honed a unique inside out approach to performance improvement which is not about gaining new knowledge but instead about using the knowledge you already have through a simple four step process fine shows how to remove the obstacles that get in the way of applying your existing skills to unlock your natural potential no matter who you are or what you do this book will help you get better
