Dr. Andrea O'Reilly is internationally recognized as the founder of motherhood studies (2006) and its subfield maternal theory (2007) and creator of the concept of matricentric feminism (a feminism for and about mothers) (2016) and Matricritics: A Literary Theory and Practice for a Reading of Mother-Focused Texts (2021). With this collection, O'Reilly continues the conversation on the meaning and nature of motherhood initiated by Adrienne Rich in Woman Born (close to fifty years ago) in other words, O'Reilly shares 25 of her chapters and articles published between 2009-2024 to examine the oppressive and empowering dimensions of mothering and to explore motherhood as institution, experience, subjectivity, and empowerment. The collection considers the central themes and theories of motherhood studies, including normative motherhood, feminist mothering, maternal regret, matricentric pedagogy, young mothers, academic motherhood, matricentric feminism, matricritics, motherhood and feminism, the motherhood memoir, the twenty-first century motherhood movement, mothers and daughters, mothers and sons, pandemic mothering, and the motherline.

The editor in chief of The Economist illuminates what global issues mattered in the last century and how the ways in which we deal with them will shape our lives in the next. The attacks on September 11th, 2001, shook the rich West out of its complacency. Suddenly, peace looked to be in peril. Even before that time, prosperity was endangered as campaigns mounted against the purported evils of capitalist globalization, such as inequality, pollution, and financial instability, and as America's high-tech stockmarket boom turned to bust. Yet in the decade following the end of the Cold War, prospects had looked so rosy with peace prevailing among the world's great powers, with billions of people joining the world market economy, and with great waves of technological change driving economies forward. What to make of such confusion and disappointment? What will the 21st century be like now? Bill Emmott, editor of The World's Leading Current Affairs Weekly, The Economist, argues that the best way to think about the future is to look back at the past at the forces that have shaped our world and at what they tell us about the things that really matter in determining whether we are at peace or at war, in a state of liberty or repression. In a period of prosperity or of depression from the twentieth century, we can learn that two questions matter above all others: Will America continue to lead the world and to protect its peace, and will we continue to accept capitalism with all its strengths and weaknesses, or will it be challenged once again? Bill Emmott's 2021 vision provides the answers that matter for all our lives in the twenty-first century.
