a naturalist s voyage round the world by charles darwin originally published in 1992 the history of western philosophy can be seen as a battle between those that insist that the physical universe exists and those would claim that there is a much larger world which contains atemporal and nonspatial things as well the central part of this book and the battle concerns the existence of universals starting with the mediaeval definition of the issue found in porphyry and boethius the author then considers modern and contemporary versions of the battle he concludes that what is at stake between naturalists and ontologists is the existence and nature of a number of important categories like structures relations sets numbers and so on re reading zola and worldwide naturalism continues the discussion of Émile zola and french naturalism with examinations of unexplored areas of the founding father s project and legacy in addition to offering essays on zola s lesser known naturalist contemporaries the volume extends the investigation of the naturalist literary current to include areas of europe outside france as well as the americas and asia tracking its persistence in various forms through the twentieth century and into the twenty first the authors pay particular attention to the ways naturalism was conceived and then received including in other channels undergoing transformations in new social conditions and creating other versions of the basic precepts this work features multidisciplinary and comparative approaches to the study of naturalism paying tribute to anna gural migdal a professor of french literature and film studies at the university of alberta in canada who specializes in the visual aspect of zola s rougon macquart novels and the transfer of these strategies to naturalist film she has been a leader in the field of zola and naturalism in her role as president of the aizen for almost fifteen of its twenty years of existence the central question of naturalism the relation of philosophy to science was one of the defining strands of twentieth century thought and remains a major source of debate and controversy today many argue that philosophy should fold itself into the sciences especially the natural sciences liberal naturalists argue that such scientific naturalism demands reductive and procrustean conceptions of knowledge and reality moreover many philosophical problems are beyond the scope of the sciences such as the nature of persons the normativity of the space of reasons and how best to understand the peculiar mix of
